NO. 2:23-cv-00352

VERIFIED COMPLAINT

INTRODUCTION

1. Plaintiff Matthew Meinecke (Meinecke) brings this civil rights action under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 against Defendants City of Seattle, Washington (Seattle), Daniel Nelson (Lt. Nelson), Robert Brown (Lt. Brown), and Sean Culbertson (Officer Culbertson) challenging city policy and application of Seattle municipal code ordinance § 12.16.010(A)(3) and police actions that effectuate a heckler's veto against

1 disfavored speech, severely restricting Meinecke's constitutionally protected
2 religious expression in traditional public fora.

3 2. Meinecke seeks injunctive relief, declaratory relief, compensatory
4 damages, and nominal damages against defendants in this cause of action.

5 3. This cause arises from two separate incidents and an ongoing
6 enforcement of "time, place, and manner" restrictions and application of § 7 12.16.010(A)(3) that have infringed on and continues to infringe on Meinecke's
8 constitutional rights to free speech and due process as guaranteed in the First and 9 Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution.

10 4. Defendants have deprived and will continue to deprive Meinecke of his 11 constitutional rights as provided in the First and Fourteenth Amendments to the 12 United States Constitution unless he obtains relief in this cause of action.

13 5. Each and every act of defendants as alleged herein was committed 14 under the color of state law and authority.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

13. Meinecke is a Christian who is compelled to share the merits of Christianity with others in public places.

14. Meinecke seeks to evangelize, explaining how everyone sins and falls short of the glory of God but can find salvation by accepting Jesus Christ as lord and savior. He refers to this message as the gospel.

15. To maximize his evangelistic efforts, Meinecke goes to public places near well-attended events, which offers him an opportunity to share his message with many people in a short period of time.

16. When he evangelizes, Meinecke typically holds up a sign, hands out literature, and wears expressive apparel, with scriptural references. He also engages in conversation and answers questions and concerns to best of his ability. His primary means of communication is to read the Bible aloud.

1 17. Meinecke adheres to what he believes is a biblical mandate to preach
2 the word of God.

3 18. Meinecke views Bible reading as the most effective and direct way for 4 him to convey the gospel because it does not include his personal views or 5 commentary, just the word of God.

6 19. Meinecke does not wish to insult, offend, or embarrass anyone. He only 7 wants people to consider the merits of Christianity.

8 20. When conducting his expressive activity, Meinecke is careful not to 9 block passageways.

10 21. Meinecke is occasionally accompanied by his friend David Duggar
11 (Duggar) when he speaks in public.

12 Seattle Imposes "Time, Place, and Manner" Restrictions and its Obstruction
13 Ordinance to Facilitate a Heckler's Veto Against Disfavored Speakers in 14 Traditional Public Fora

15 22. Seattle maintains an ordinance in Seattle Municipal Code entitled 16 "Obstructing a police officer" found at § 12A.16.010 of the code.

17 23. A subsection of this ordinance, § 12.A.16.010(A)(3) reads: "A person is 18 guilty of obstructing a police officer if, with knowledge that the person obstructed is 19 a public officer, he or she...[i]ntentionally refuses to cease an activity or behavior that 20 creates a risk of injury to any person when ordered to do so by a police officer[.]"

21 24. As interpreted and applied by Seattle, § 12A.16.010(A)(3) can be 22 invoked against a speaker engaging in protected speech in a traditional public forum
23 to shut down the speech.

24 25. If the speech receives a hostile reaction to it such that a police officer
25 believes the situation "creates a risk of injury" to the speaker, the police officer can 26 order the speaker to stop his speech and leave the traditional public forum as part of 27 what the Seattle police department calls a "time, place, and manner" restriction.

1           26.     Should the speaker refuse to depart from the area, the police officer can
2 arrest the speaker and charge him for violating § 12A.16.010(A)(3).

3           27.     Seattle's use of so-called "time, place, and manner" restrictions and 4 application of § 12A.16.010(A)(3) establishes a government-sanctioned heckler's veto,
5 granting those who oppose speech with the power to censor it by simply being hostile
6 toward it.

7           28.     During roll call, Seattle police commanders remind police officers in 8 their precinct how to handle First Amendment speakers and when/ where to enforce 9 "time, place, and manner" restrictions and apply § 12A.16.010(A)(3).

10                   Seattle Police Officers Ban Meinecke's Evangelistic Speech on Public Ways
11                   Outside of Abortion Rally and Arrest Him for Violating § 12A.16.010(A)(3)

12           29.     On June 24, 2022, around 4:45 p.m., Meinecke went to a bricked public
13 walkway by Second Avenue outside the Jackson federal building in downtown
14 Seattle to share his Christian faith with others.

15           30.     Meinecke went to this particular spot outside the federal building due 16 to the significant number of people who were gathering in the area to support 17 abortion rights.

18           31.     On this date, the Supreme Court rendered the Dobbs v. Jackson Women's 19 Health Organization, the decision overturning Roe v. Wade.

20           32.     The Supreme Court decision prompted public protest in Seattle, and 21 predominantly in the downtown area. Protestors staged a gathering on Second 22 Avenue in front of the Jackson federal building with intentions to march as a form of 23 protest.

24           33.     Several attendees also gathered in the walkway space where Meinecke
25 was located.

26           34.     Meinecke did not come to this event to condemn abortion, or speak on 27 this topic, but to convey his faith in Christianity to the people who were in the area.

1           35.     Meinecke walked back and forth on the pedestrian walkway with a sign
2 and read from verses in the Bible, specifically, from the book of John found in the 3 Bible. He also handed out Christian literature to willing recipients.

4           36.     After reading scriptural passages for about an hour, covering
5 approximately twelve chapters in the book of John, several protestors began to 6 surround Meinecke.

7           37.     These protestors did not threaten Meinecke, but he was uncomfortable
8 with their close presence and walked away from them to avoid any possible conflict.

9           38.     Meinecke walked over to the intersection with Marion Street, however,
10 a few protestors followed and began to surround him in that space as well.

11           39.     An unidentified protestor took Meinecke's Bible away from him.

12           40.     Undeterred, Meinecke pulled out another Bible and continued reading
13 from the book of John.

14           41.     But approximately fifteen minutes later, a different unidentified
15 individual grabbed his second Bible and ripped pages from it and threw the torn 16 pages on the ground.

17           42.     Soon after, several Antifa protestors, identified by their black clothing,
18 black sunglasses, and black masks, physically forced Meinecke to leave the space
19 where he was standing. Meinecke did not engage with these protestors but took hold 20 of a nearby sawhorse located on Second Avenue so he could remain in the same 21 location and continue with his speech.

22           43.     However, the Antifa protestors picked up Meinecke and the sawhorse
23 he was holding, and carried him to the other side of Marion Street near a sidewalk in 24 front of the Exchange Building, and dropped him on the pavement there.

25           44.     Wanting to continue with his gospel message, Meinecke walked over
26 to a sidewalk plaza on the other side of the street from the federal building, on Second 27

1 Avenue, in front of Docusign Tower close to the intersection with Marion Street, to 2 avoid any further problems with protestors.

3 45. In this location, Meinecke was standing approximately 30 feet away
4 from where individuals were gathering for the abortion rally march on Second
5 Avenue, well out of the way of the individuals participating in the march.

6 46.. Meinecke began to read what was left of his second Bible and held up
7 a sign with a scriptural message, addressing individuals who were in the vicinity.

8 47. As he was standing there, another group of attendees came up to 9 Meinecke and an unidentified protestor knocked Meinecke down and took one of his 10 shoes away from him.

11 48. Before long, several Seattle police officers from the west precinct
12 arrived on the scene, around eight to ten in number, including Lt. Nelson and Officer
13 Culbertson.

14 49. Prior to deploying to the scene of the abortion rally, earlier that day,
15 Lt. Nelson, Officer Culbertson, and other police officers in the west precinct attended 16 a roll call conducted by Seattle Police Department commanders, who reminded the 17 police officers how and when to impose “time/place/manner” restrictions.

18 50. The protestors around Meinecke disbursed as soon as the police 19 arrived.

20 51. Meinecke was initially grateful for the police presence. However, the 21 police officers did not offer to help Meinecke. While Meinecke was still on the 22 ground, grimacing from the attack, police officers ordered Meinecke to leave the area.

23 52. Lt. Nelson, who was acting as the supervisory officer on the scene, 24 instructed police officers to apply a “time, place, and manner” restriction on 25 Meinecke and, in compliance, Officer Culbertson ordered Meinecke to go across 26 Madison Street to other side of the street.

1           53.     Meinecke did not want to go to this new location. He wanted to share
2 the gospel in a space where abortion protestors and attendees could receive his
3 message. And with the “time, place, and manner” restriction, Seattle police officers 4 were forcing him to stand a significant distance away from where individuals were 5 gathering and in a spot where the march would not pass.

6           54.     Meinecke advised the police officers that he was not breaking any laws
7 (unlike those who attacked him) and that he wished to stay on the sidewalk plaza
8 bordering Second Avenue and convey his Christian message.

9           55.     The police officers reiterated to Meinecke that he had to leave,
10 indicating that he could no longer be in a place where abortion protestors would hear
11 his message. Meinecke refused, reminding the police officers of his constitutional 12 right to speak on the public way.

13           56.     Lt. Nelson then directed police officers there to arrest Meinecke for 14 obstruction, § 12A.16.010(A)(3). He also called in for back up, including a police van
15 to escort Meinecke away from the area and to the police station in the west precinct.

16           57.     Police officers arrested Meinecke, handcuffed him while he was still on 17 the ground, and took what was left of his Bible and other belongings. Officer
18 Culbertson was the primary arresting officer.

19           58.     More police officers arrived by bicycle, car, and van. Lt Nelson directed 20 the van go around and behind the march to pull onto Second Avenue after the 21 abortion rally marchers had cleared.

22           59.     The abortion rally participants began to march, taking a left onto 23 Marion Street, walking in that direction. While this march was taking place, Seattle
24 police officers restrained Meinecke, keeping him from interacting with protestors or 25 attendees.

1           60.     Meinecke objected to the police officers restraining him, handcuffing
2 him, and taking his Bible. He pointed out how he had done nothing wrong and asked
3 the officers to let him go so he could share his message.

4           61.     The police officers refused to release Meinecke. They kept Meinecke in 5 handcuffs and kept their hands on him, pressing him down on the ground, keeping 6 him from leaving or engaging in his speech.

7           62.     Meinecke was deeply troubled by the arrest and silencing of his speech.
8 He repeatedly expressed his right to be in a public place and speak under the First 9 Amendment, but the police officers disagreed with this assessment, and told 10 Meinecke that he had no such right, indicating that they were detaining him for his 11 own good.

12          63.     Meinecke reminded the police officers that he did not seek their help or 13 want their help, he only wanted to be left alone.

14          64.     The police officers did not relent, however. They kept him in handcuffs
15 and waited for the abortion march to pass on Marion Street before taking Meinecke 16 to the police van.

17          65.     Approximately ten minutes later, a couple of police officers lifted
18 Meinecke off the ground and walked him to a nearby planter behind a Wells Fargo
19 sign and forced him to sit on the planter, with his back to the remaining marchers.

20          66.     Several minutes later, after the abortion march moved on from the 21 Marion Street intersection, several police officers escorted Meinecke to the police van 22 that had pulled up on Second Avenue and put him in the back of it.

23          67.     Seattle police officers determined that they needed to detain Meinecke
24 at the police station to keep him from speaking to anyone attending the abortion rally.
25 Officer Culbertson instructed police officers going the precinct to keep Meinecke at 26 the precinct for two hours so he could not go back and speak.

1           68. Police officers took Meinecke to the west precinct in a police van. There,
2 police officers took his mug shot, searched through Meinecke's belongings, and put 3 him in a holding cell.

4           69. Seattle police officers did not book Meinecke, but, as instructed, they
5 intentionally kept Meinecke in the precinct for at least 2 hours until after the abortion
6 rally had ended.

7           Seattle Police Officers Ban Meinecke's Evangelistic Speech in Public Park
8           Outside of PrideFest and Arrest Him for Violating § 12A.16.010(A)(3)

9           70. A couple of days later, on Sunday, June 26, 2022, Meinecke went to the 10 Seattle Center, a public park in Seattle, around 12:15 p.m., to share his Christian faith 11 again.

12           71. The annual Seattle PrideFest was occurring in the park this day and 13 Meinecke had long planned to attend the event for evangelism purposes.

14           72. As Meinecke approached the park, he did not encounter any physical 15 barriers to entrance into the park or detect a need for more or ticket for entry. The 16 PrideFest event as well as the park itself were free and open to the general public.

17           73. He went to a grassy area close to some shrubbery on the outskirts of the 18 Seattle Center and outside of the PrideFest event, set up a lawn chair that he brought 19 with him, sat down, and started reading verses from the Bible, specifically, the book
20 of Romans, conveying a gospel message.

21           74. Meinecke spoke in a conversational tone. He did not use any form of 22 amplification for his speech.

23           75. Initially, Meinecke's speech went largely unnoticed with many 24 individuals walking by without interacting with him or apparently noticing him. But 25 eventually some attendees did notice him, with one attendee taking a selfie with him,
26 and a couple of others dancing near him. Two other attendees held up a flag in front
27 of Meinecke in an apparent attempt to keep people from seeing him.

1           76. Later on in the day, a couple of attendees stood close to Meinecke and 2 howled and barked like dogs, and mocked Meinecke, while he read passages from 3 the Bible. Meinecke did not engage with them. He continued to read his Bible in a 4 conversational tone.

5           77. Thereafter, an unidentified individual approached Meinecke and 6 poured water on his Bible.

7           78. Though some pages were soaked, Meinecke continued to read scripture
8 aloud, and his speech was unimpeded for at least a couple of hours.

9           79. However, at that point in time, several attendees started to gather
10 around Meinecke and some yelled at him.

11           80. Meinecke did not perceive that he was in danger of any physical harm.
12 He refrained from responding to these remarks and continued to read the Bible.

13           81. Soon thereafter, approximately ten police officers soon came to the 14 scene, including Lt. Nelson and Lt. Brown.

15           82. During roll call that day at the west precinct, Seattle police commanders
16 reminded these and other police officers how to handle First Amendment speakers
17 and when/where to enforce “time, place, and manner” restrictions.

18           83. The police officers that came to the scene were nearby or already on site
19 at the Seattle Center when the protestors approached Meinecke.

20           84. Police officers asked Meinecke to stop his speech and leave the Seattle
21 Center.

22           85. Meinecke declined to leave. He did not believe a hostile reaction
23 should cause him to lose his right to speak in a public park. He tried to continue 24 reading his Bible.

25           86. While Meinecke was interacting with police officers, an attendee was 26 yelling at police officers, demanding they get Meinecke out of the park.
27

1           87. Lt. Nelson and Lt. Brown decided to impose a “time, place, and
2 manner” restriction on Meinecke and ordered him to leave the Seattle Center.

3           88. Lt. Brown told Meinecke the police were imposing a “time, place, and 4 manner” restriction on him and that he needed to leave the park immediately.

5           89. Meinecke reminded Lt. Brown that he had done nothing wrong and 6 asserted his constitutional right to speak.

7           90. Lt. Brown contacted someone with his radio while other police officers
8 stood in close proximity to Meinecke as he sat in his chair and read passages. During 9 this time, several attendees mocked Meinecke.

10          91. Approximately five minutes later, Lt. Nelson and Lt. Brown 11 determined that Meinecke was violating § 12A.16.010(A)(3) and that they would 12 arrest him and charge him.

13          92. Lt. Brown addressed Meinecke again. He told Meinecke that the police
14 could no longer stand by due to the risk to public safety that Meinecke posed by 15 remaining in the park and said the risk would be mitigated if Meinecke left the park 16 entirely.

17          93. Meinecke replied that he was not in danger.

18          94. Lt. Brown directed police officers to arrest Meinecke for violating § 19 12A.16.010(A)(3).

20          95. Following this directive, the police officers handcuffed Meinecke and 21 physically escorted him out of the park as attendees cheered the police action. Officer
22 Daane was the primary arresting officer.

23          96. The police officers took Meinecke to a police vehicle, placed him in it, 24 and drove him to west precinct for booking and detention.

25          97. They booked Meinecke at the precinct, took his mug shot and 26 fingerprints, and released him from custody approximately five hours later after he 27 posted bond.

1           98. Meinecke was charged for obstructing a police officer under §
2 12A.16.010(A)(3). A couple of days later, on the date of his hearing, Seattle informed 3 it was no longer pursuing charges against him regarding this incident, but in the 4 written notice, Seattle warned that it could bring up charges for this incident at a later 5 time.

6           Meinecke's Efforts to Resolve his Concerns Without Litigation

7           99. Meinecke was deeply troubled by the actions of Seattle police
8 department on June 24, 2022 and 26, 2022. On both occasions, Meinecke believed they 9 should have arrested those who assaulted him and instead they arrested him, though 10 he did not retaliate or do anything wrong.

11           100. Meinecke filed a formal charge with the Seattle police department
12 regarding the mistreatment he received.

13           101. Meinecke was also concerned about his ability to speak on public ways
14 in the future, including the PrideFest scheduled for summer of 2023.

15           102. He sought legal counsel to help him, and, on October 3, 2022, Meinecke
16 forwarded correspondence through legal counsel to the Chief of Police and City
17 Attorney for City of Seattle, seeking relief from the City's practice of facilitating a 18 heckler's veto.

19           103. Highlighting the two incidents on the public sidewalk in front of the 20 abortion rally and in public park during the PrideFest event, Meinecke questioned
21 the constitutionality of the City's policy and practice, describing how police officers
22 precluded Meinecke from sharing his message because others disagreed with his 23 message.

24           104. The letter expounded on how Seattle's actions burden Meinecke's free 25 speech and the reasons why the City's policy and practice is unconstitutional. He 26 asked for written assurance from Seattle officials that the City refrain from 27

1 prohibiting him from speaking in public areas due to poor or hostile reaction to his
2 religious speech.

3 105. The City Attorney's office subsequently called about the letter to 4 confirm their receipt of it, but despite multiple phone call follow-ups with the City
5 Attorney's office, Seattle failed to respond to Meinecke's letter or concerns.

6 106. On January 10, 2023, Seattle's director of police accountability reported
7 its findings to Meinecke regarding the June 26, 2022 incident that occurred at Seattle
8 Center.

9 107. The director's report acknowledged the underlying facts of Meinecke's
10 arrest, that Meinecke read religious passages from the Bible aloud to attendees of the 11 festival, that several attendees objected to his speech, that police officers ordered 12 Meinecke to leave the park as a "time, place, and manner" restriction, and that the 13 police officers arrested Meinecke when he declined to leave for purportedly violating 14 § 12A.16.010(A)(3).

15 108. The director of police accountability concluded that Seattle police 16 officers acted and followed policy appropriately in requiring Meinecke leave the 17 public park when others posed a threat to him and that the police officers properly
18 arrested Meinecke when he refused to leave the park voluntarily.

19 109. In that Meinecke was not exonerated by police department findings
20 and did not receive the assurance he was seeking from the City Attorney's office, his 21 only viable option for relief is litigation.

22 FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

23 Violation of Free Speech

24 110. Meinecke's religious expression constitutes protected speech under the 25 Free Speech Clause of the First Amendment to the United States Constitution.
26
27

111. Meinecke challenges Seattle's invalid "time, place and manner" restriction and application of § 12A.16.010(A)(3) to his religious expression that serve to silence his speech in traditional public fora.

112. Seattle's use of "time, place, and manner" restrictions and application of § 12A.16.101(A)(3), and related policies and practices, including the heckler's veto the City imposes in traditional public fora:

- a. are vague and overbroad;
- b. discriminate against speech because of its content and viewpoint;
- c. chill the free speech of Meinecke and other third-party citizens;
- d. allow for the exercise of unbridled discretion;
- e. lack narrow tailoring, fail to achieve any legitimate government purpose;
- f. and fail to leave open ample alternative avenues for the expression.

113. Defendants have no compelling or significant reason that can justify their restriction on Meinecke's religious speech.

114. Defendants' policies and practices and interpretation of § 12A.16.010(A)(3), and the enforcement thereof, thus violate the Free Speech Clause of the First Amendment to the United States Constitution, made applicable to the states through the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution.

WHEREFORE, Meinecke respectfully prays the Court grant the equitable and legal relief set forth in the prayer for relief.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

Violation of Due Process Clause

115. Defendants' policies and practices and interpretation of § 12A.16.010(A)(3) are vague and lack sufficient objective standards to limit the discretion of city officials and police officers, providing Defendants with ample

1 opportunity to enforce the policies, practices, and ordinance in an ad hoc, arbitrary,
2 and discriminatory manner.

3 116. Defendants have no compelling or legitimate reason that can justify 4 their vague policies, practices, and ordinance.

5 117. Defendants' policies, practices, and ordinance, and their application to 6 Meinecke, therefore violate the Due Process Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment to 7 the United States Constitution.

8 WHEREFORE, Meinecke respectfully prays the Court grant the equitable and 9 legal relief set forth hereinafter in the prayer for relief.

10 THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION

11 Unlawful Arrest and False Imprisonment on June 24, 2022

12 118. Defendants arrested and detained Meinecke while acting under the 13 color of authority as police officers for the Seattle Police Department on June 24, 2022.

14 119. Defendants handcuffed and physically restrained Meinecke by force on 15 the scene, in a police van, and later at the police precinct, against his will, before 16 finally releasing him.

17 120. Defendants had no lawful basis for restraining, confining, or detaining
18 Meinecke for any length of time. They retained Meinecke and for an extended period 19 of time to keep him from engaging in free speech.
